Olciki ođońren ńariĳol do ađi kucite hudisakada, onage sańutoĳ kana.

Dr. R. M. Macphail jothatgey men akada bańma, k, ć, ł, p,- while each of these belongs properly to one of the above Categories, k being a velar or guttural; ć - palatal; ł - a dental and p - a labial. If it more convenient to consider them together, they are four consonants checked deliberately and suddenly in the middle of being pronounced.

In a sentence or phrase where these letters are followed by a vowel, they are changed their form; 'k' becomes 'g'; 'p' becomes 'b'; 'ć' becomes 'j'; and 'ł' becomes 'd' where the vowel in A (𑌒) this change is optional and the rule does not apply.

In the case of verbs ending in a half consonant when the following tense sign begin with a vowel (An in trodution to the Santali).

Pańsi gańhuńi G. A. Grierson aĳaĳ Linguistic Survey of India - vol.- IV puthirey ol akada; "The semi consonant 'k' is pronounced further back in the throat than the consonant 'k'. The semi consonants are a characteristic feature of all Munda languages. They have marked in various ways. Thus we are often 'a' and 'ah' for 'ak'; 'ai' and 'ac'; 'a'; 'ai' for 'ach' and so forth; I have followed Mr. Skefsrud in writing k, ć, ł, p respectively.

The 'k' of the inanimative suffix 'ok' is never changed; the 'k' of the passive suffix 'ok' only in the intensive form 'og'- 'ok'. The final 'ł' of verbal suffixes become 'd' before animate suffixes beginning with a (𑌒) vowel. There is further now a tendency especially in the language of men, to substitute for 'ł' before the categorical A (𑌒). Thus maĳ - cut,

mag-a-e - he will cut,

mage-me - cut him,

mag-iń-me - cut mine,

maĳ- daĳe-aĳ-ae- he may cut,

maĳ-ko-m- cut them;

maĳ-aĳ-me- cut at it,

maĳ-ae-me- cut for him;

maĳ-eł-a-e or maĳ-ed-a-e - he cuts;

gitić- lay downs,

gitiĳ-e-pe - lay him down;

ceł- learn, imperative - ced-ma;

duĳuĳ - place,

duĳuĳ-iń-me- place me.

In such verbs as are both transitive and intransitive the semi-consonant is always left unchanged when the verb is used in an intransitive sense, thus - bereť me- stand up, but bered me- raise up,

bereť-a-iń - I shall arise,

bered-a-ń- I shall raise.

“Finally when there is any pamphlet or book on the alchiki script it is always preceded or followed by supernatural anecdotes related to the life of Pandit Raghunath Murmu. Is it for giving a magical touch to the script for common attraction or for exploiting the emotion of a minority group for an emotional upsurge?

We should not forget that we are living in the twenty first Century when our knowledge about language and script and research connected therewith has undergone a sea change. We have to introduce script after much research and deliberation, having a sure of scientific precision. We should not forget that what we are introducing to day, we are doing it for the future generation. If we introduce a script representing perfectly the sound system of the language, we will do some good to our future generation. We should also be cautious that whether the introduction of the script for appeasing a minority section of people will push the whole people to a century backward for whom the Script being introduced.

Dr. Arun K. Ghosh, Reader
Deptt. of Bengali
University of Burdwan

“In my opinion, Introduction of Santali language (in Alckiki script) is not presently feasible as adequate study materials are not available in Alciki script. Such materials may not be available in near future.

Point should be given to the issue of teaching Santali at the primary level with immediate effect. Introduction of Alciki is a separate issue. It should not be allowed to halt the process of teaching Santali as a first language at all level up to the degree stage. Orissa, Jharkhand, Bihar also Assam besides West Bengal should together take a decision about Alciki script, West Bengal can not take a unilateral decision in this matter. Bangaldesh is also involed with nearly 8 lakhs of Santali speakers in its northern areas.”

সাঁওতাল ভাষায় লিপি প্রবর্তনের পূর্বে কোন স্থির সিদ্ধান্তে আসার আগে নিম্নলিখিত কয়েকটি বিষয়েও চিন্তার অবকাশ আছে।
১। এ বিষয়ে সেই সমাজের বিশিষ্ট ব্যক্তিদের মতামত এবং শিক্ষার সঙ্গে যুক্ত অন্য সমাজের ব্যক্তিদের মতামত প্রয়োজন।

২। বিভিন্ন রাজ্য যেমন- বিহার, ওড়িশা, আসাম, ও পশ্চিমবঙ্গে সাঁওতালী ভাষার বিভিন্ন লিপি প্রচলিত আছে। এই কারণে এক রাজ্যের সাঁওতাল অন্য রাজ্যের সাঁওতাল সমাজের সঙ্গে লিখিতভাবে ভাবের আদান-প্রদান করতে সক্ষম নয়।

৩। সারা ভারতের সাঁওতাল সমাজের জন্য চিন্তা করলে ব্যবহারিক দিক থেকে হিন্দি বা রোমান লিপি গ্রহণযোগ্য। অন্যদিকে শুধুমাত্র পশ্চিমবঙ্গের সাঁওতাল জনগণের জন্য চিন্তা করলে ব্যবহারিক দিক থেকে বাংলা হরফকে প্রাধান্য দেওয়া যেতে পারে। কিন্তু সাঁওতাল সমাজের বিরাট জনসংখ্যা যদি অলচিকি বা অল হরফকে নিজেদের ভাষার জন্য ব্যবহার করতে চান, সে বিষয়ে যথেষ্ট গুরুত্ব দেওয়ার অবকাশ আছে।

২০০১ সালের ১৮ ডিসেম্বর তারিখ সাঁওতাল ভাষা কমিটির সদস্যের সঙ্গে আলোচনার সংক্ষিপ্ত বিবরণ।

“Santali is neither taught as a language in Primary, Secondary, Higher Secondary and university in Orissa, nor Santali is used as a medium of instruction for different subjects. Santali with Olciki script was only introduced in 30 schools (20 in Mayurbhanj district, 5 in Keonjhar district and 5 in Sundargarh district from May, 1992 on an experimental basis.”

Contradictory views and discrepancy between claims and real practice.

Almost all the Olciki teachers who answered Questionnaires and were interviewed were strongly in favour of teaching of Santali through Olciki. But about 20% of the parents interviewed and who were also served questionnaires were not in favour of their wards learning Olciki. The rest 80% are found to be totally unaware of all these facts. While the teachers claim to teach Olciki, the students deny the fact. Except in a few cases, Olciki is not found to be taught, to some extent, are found to be close by the Olciki teaching centres run by ASECA.

Most of students and some teachers opine that learning of Olciki becomes difficult after learning of Oriya script. The vice versa, in their opinion, is also found to be true. There seems to have a tendency not only to confuse Olciki with Santali language but also the script taking prominence over the language.

The demand is so much for the recognition of the script Olciki, the Santali language seems to lose out to the script. Educated people, therefore, are found to equate Olciki with Santali language.”

*Dr. Manmatha Kundu,
Director Academy of Tribal Dialect of Culture
(SC & ST Development Deptt.)
Govt. of Orissa*

“Language and script are two different things. Script come much later and its age is about half the age of language. Certain languages are written in more than one script and certain scripts accommodate more than one language. Scripts named after languages are misnomers. If there are 200 to 700 languages in India. There are only 20 scripts. Indian states are multilingual and there is no reason why a minority should feel shy of the dominant language. In fact it is good policy for a minority language to be written in the same script as the dominant language for that will help the minority community to have access to development. In Orissa Olciki was introduced in 30 schools to see how it fares. The experiment seems to have failed mainly because there was no transaction allowed between olciki and Oriya. Since one is more concerned with language than script, one must see to it that no language is endangered for reasons of script."

Professor Debi Prasanna Pattanayak, Former Director of Central Institute of Indian Languages (CIIL), Mysore

"As far as the script is concerned one of the script which are already in use by the parents of the students is to be recommended. In case another script is introduced it will reduce even children from literate families to the level of first generation learners. According to my own observation, the only script in which there is a wide spread literacy among adult santal in West Bengal is the Bengali script. My own experiences are limited to the southern and western parts of West Bengal, however. I have heard that in other parts of West Bengal Roman script has a similar position among the santal, but I have no personal experience from those areas and my only suggestion is that any script commonly known among the grown up santals is the one to be recommended.

At present the Olciki script is not to be recommended as a medium for school education as there has not yet been created any wide spread adult literacy in Olciki among the Santals."
